1st Five Year Plan

Chapter 24: VILLAGE INDUSTRIES

There are a number of institutions in India such as the All-India Village Industries Association, the All-India Spinners Association and the Khadi Pratistan, Sodepur, which have a long record of valuable work and considerable experience in the field of village industries. In addition to organising industrial co-operatives, a useful method of developing village industries would be to give a measure of assistance to such associations so that, in turn, their workers can assist village artisans.
